About Us

Established in 1998, Weetwood is a dynamic and growing consultancy that delivers flood risk, drainage and utilities solutions for property developers, investors, house-builders and private clients. We work on sites from initial site appraisal, through the planning process to site delivery.

Our range of services includes Flood Risk Assessments, Drainage Design, Environmental Impact Assessments, Utility Assessments, Due Diligence, Expert Witness and Planning Appeals. In delivering our services we work with architects, planning and property consultants and other professional disciplines.

Our projects cover developments across all sectors including retail, residential, industrial and leisure. The schemes vary in size depending on the client; we are currently working on residential development projects of up to 4,500 properties.

We have offices in London, Leeds and Mold (near Chester) and work on projects across England, Scotland and Wales.

About You

You will have at least 3 years experience in developing surface and foul water drainage strategies using Micro Drainage to accompany planning applications or discharge planning conditions as well as developing designs for adoption through Section 38/104/106 Agreements. You will be based within a commutable distance of either our Mold or Leeds offices.

Salary

Up to £35,000/annum depending on experience, plus benefits
